THE MULTI-MANAGED WAY TO SAVE FOR COLLEGE

Offered by the EDUCATION TRUST OF ALASKA

Education may be priceless, but college has a cost.

For many parents and grandparents, saving for college is a top financial priority. One way to get started is to know what a college education might cost, so you can establish a savings goal and develop a strategy to help reach that goal.

START SAVING WITH JOHN HANCOCK FREEDOM 529 TODAY!

Saving for college is easier than you might think. Talk to your financial consultant about opening a John Hancock Freedom 529 account.

<sup>1</sup> Assumes a hypothetical 6% rate of return with earnings compounded annually. Assumes no fees or expenses, deductions, distributions or state taxes. The rate of return is for illustrative purposes only and does not represent any specific investments. Returns will fluctuate.

Source: College costs used in this calculator are based on data from the Annual Survey of Colleges of the College Board and Data Base, 2008–2009. © 2008 College Entrance Examination Board. All Rights Reserved. See also, www.collegeboard.com. For the purposes of this calculator, college costs include tuition, fees, room & board, books & supplies, and other fees, as supplied to the College Board from the institutions. The average costs are based on four-year public (in-state) and private colleges for each state and nationally.

There are different kinds of institutions in each region, and because of this, there may be a large variation in the actual costs for specific institutions.

This calculator assumes that overall college costs will increase by 5% per year. The impact of inflation on higher education expenses is uncertain and the rate of inflation could exceed the rate of return on your investments. Please note that these projected college costs are averages and the Beneficiary may be admitted to any school whose costs may be higher or lower than these averages. The savings goals depicted by the calculator are an estimate based on certain assumptions and cannot guarantee that sufficient money will be saved. Any calculation does not take into account (1) any potential costs of transferring assets between the accounts, (2) the differences in the rate of return on investments within the account, (3) investing in the Plan (i.e. annual account fees), or (4) the effect of federal and/or state taxes. The calculator assumes that qualified distributions from a 529 savings plan are federal income tax-free. State income tax rules concerning distributions may vary. The calculator results do not take into account any state taxes.

If your state or your designated Beneficiary's state offers a 529 plan you may want to consider what, if any, potential state income tax or other benefits it offers, before investing. State tax or other benefits should be one of many factors to be considered prior to making an investment decision. Please consult with your financial, tax or other advisor about how these state benefits, if any, may apply to your specific circumstances. You may also contact your state 529 plan or any other 529 college savings plan to learn more about their features. Please contact your financial consultant or call 1-866-222-7498 to obtain a Plan Disclosure Document or prospectus for any of the underlying funds. The Plan Disclosure Document contains complete details on investment objectives, risks, fees, charges and expenses, as well as more information about municipal fund securities and the underlying investment companies that should be considered before investing. Please read the Plan Disclosure Document carefully prior to investing.

John Hancock Freedom 529 is a college savings plan offered by the Education Trust of Alaska, managed by T. Rowe Price, and distributed by John Hancock Distributors LLC through other broker/dealers that have a selling agreement with John Hancock Distributors LLC.
